Legal Department.

Under sub-section (1) of section 85 of the Factories Act, 1948, power is given to apply the provisions of the Act to any place wherein a manufacturing process is carried on. It would, therefore, be desirable to consider each compartment into which a silk factory has been divided as a separate place and to apply to it the provisions of the Act. Secondly, if such places are distinguished by a name of the business for instance, "M.Y. Weaving Works" (Item 1 in the notification), there is a possibility especially in this case of the name being changed again to evade the notification and consequently the provisions of the Act. The names should not, therefore, be included in the notification. The manager of each such unit must be paying rent separately and the particulars of such place may be filled in before it is issued; so that any successor or transferee of the business in the same place will continue to be governed by the notification.

2. A revised draft is sent herewith accordingly.
